

The only thing I can say is the people that are fighting this have the right the same as you do for having this service. I do not think that anyone having it should have to pay the ungodly price you ask. If you do not like the heat get out of the kitchen. It is called freedom of speech.